

IN HEAT EXPLOS

At least seventeen men injured, some of them seriously, as the result of the explosion of a water heater in the base of the pork packing establishment of Bachelder & Snyder, No. 5; Blackstone street, shortly after 8 o'clock to-day, and the whole neighborhood was given a fright.

This followed another explosion earlier in the morning, in the building of the Broadway Extension Poultry Company at Albany Way streets, which wrecked the structure and is supposed to have been caused by gunpowder. The police are investigating the first explosion.

The Blackstone street accident is supposed to have been caused by men pouring cold water into a boiler that had very little water in it, thus forming an immense amount of steam.

Firemen who quickly reached the scene had the fire that followed the explosion extinguished before it had made much headway. Two police sergeants who happened to be on the spot distinguished themselves by rushing into the steam-basement and carrying the injured men from the place.

Among those who were injured were the following:

The List of Injured.

Marjorie Gould Dinner is Denounced by Mrs. Stokes

Margerie Gould, from one of her latest photographs, at whose gorgeous debut guests worth a billion and a half dollars sat at table.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Ross Fisher Stokes, the well-known Socialist leader, who before her marriage with J. G. Phelps Stokes, the millionaire, was a factory worker in Cleveland, Ohio, makes the following formal statement:

"Just so long as the voting population of this country continues to keep as ignorant as it does, the capitalist class in power, just so long as the parasitic class continue to drain off the lifeblood of the people, just so long will we have a government which is controlled by the interests of the few."

the dinner dance of Miss Marjorie Gould. But it's not an unusual occurrence, especially in as far as Miss Gould's party could a little more than parties frequently given by other members of the life class. These things are constantly going on while semiprecious, starvation, desertion, divorce, sickness and death have been the portion doled out to the mass of work-

Hundreds Starving in Turkish Famine.—CONSTANTINOPLE—The distress in Asia Minor following the recent earthquake has reached an acute phase in the districts of Erevan, Yound, Karsabaz and Hamah. Famine is causing the death of thousands of people. The population are without means for obtaining food and fuel. The Turkish Government has been unable to do a dependable thing. Their sufferings are all the greater, as the Winter is the coldest yet.

WAY TO BEAT JOHNSON NOW PUZZLING FANS

The three XXX special, the leader of the six best sellers right now, is the unlimited edition of the latest craze, "The Way to Make a White Heavyweight Champion." The beauty of this work is that everybody may contribute and tit all ideas.

Some of the fight fans have large ideas on the puzzling subject which just now seems to have everybody, from Jim Jeffries down—or up, as the case may—by the ears for fair. Jeff himself seems about to be moved by that strange force known as mental suggestion into fighting the big black champion, whose uprooting into Tommy Burns's jaw net only upset the French Canadian champion, but uprooted the world of pugilism as well.

problem of how best to prove the supremacy of the white brethren of the ring. Many of them are excellent in theory, but are a bit fuzzy in appearance when a cold-blooded scheme of putting them into practice is considered.

Many Suggestions Come.

Running through quite a stack of these suggestions and schemes for bringing back the title to the white race, I have picked out one, sent in by a Mr. Barry. This is especially comprehensive and far reaching in the matter of theory, and if put into

But the loose screw in the scheme is found at once. Lil Artha might object to the plan and reign on the execution.

Let the six promoters give six shows, one apiece, divided up about in this way:
One in Philadelphia of six rounds.
One in New York of ten rounds.

One in New Orleans of twenty rounds.
One in Los Angeles of twenty-five rounds.
One in San Francisco to a finish.

Tells of Scheme.

The next portion of the prescription is to get Jack Johnson over here from Australla and get him started on a swing around this delightful little circuit. Start him off at Philadelphia in a bout with Tony Ross.

Then let him jump right over to New York city the next night and polish off Mike Ketchich.

The next stop for the relentless but by this time failing negro would be New Orleans—fancy Jack being allowed to whip a white man down there—and after tackling Marvin Hart in the prescribed twenty-round bout, the remains of the colored man would be dumped into some sort of a tank.

"Then," naively adds Dr. Barry, who has fixed up this carbolic acid cocktail for Lili Arba, "I think the colored man would be

Would Beat Johnson.

Yes, it looks as if that would kill a horse, let alone the champion. But the scheme has its drawbacks. It doesn't provide for the appearance at any of the al-every one of them wild to get a crack at Johnson, as Jim Corbett, Tom Sharkey, Fitzsimmons, Roshter Bill, Jem Roche, Gunner Moir, Herr Plaeke, Peter Maher and possibly Gus Ruhlin and Jack Monroe. And surely nobody could have the heart

No doubt there are friendships that have [illegible]

With the SUNDAY AMERICAN

By DOROTHY DIX

No doubt there are friendships that have been taken to death, and instructors that have been broken up by separating things that were told in confidence; but silence is also a deadly enemy of love. Who but has lost a friend, who but has lost a coldness creep between her and a beloved one, that bitter regret, the few friends might have been preserved, the loved one kept, if only she had gone to that one and frankly demanded an explanation?

If we only had the courage to have shown this silence that is like a barrier of ice between those from whom we are separated, and should go to them today and say, "What have I done to offend you? Wherein am I at fault?" or "Why did you love me this and not?" be sure that old grudges would melt away, old intimacies be restored, and we should soon forgive and forget the foolish.

Finally, there came a time to each of us when the awful silence of death shrouded the light of life that is dearest on earth to us. When the awful silence of death shall come between us and our best beloved, cry aloud as we may, we cannot make them hear it; that far faded to which they have gone, that knows their wanderings we shall most regret the things that we have said, or have left unsaid.

Often Silent Till Too Late

"My maid dips a sponge in cold water and dabs the upper part of my body, and washes and dabs the rest of me quickly with it."

"Then out of the tub I spring upon the floor and give to myself, or my slaves may a quick rub with one of those towels, and then I take a bath of water, as the article by Miss Cavallett on 'A Day in the Life of a Slave Girl' says, 'the woman's most famous beauty lies in the means employed to keep her skin so soft, her hair so glossy, her complexion so fair, her feet so trim and her gowns so light'—the article, which is given in the 10th volume of the LONDON LITERARY AND ARTS INTELLIGENCER, and which is a most curious and interesting account of them of her own day."

LOSE WAY TO REDUCE TAXES
THREATEN BOSTON AMERICAN:

The Lodging House Committee in London in its report to the March 21st meeting of the Landlords Association said that the landlords have to close their eyes to the great deal in order to root taxes. Taxes are so high that landlords have to charge the tenants more than a hard day's work to struggle for lodging house keepers to the next end meet. I think that it is not all fair to tax lodgers were made it. It would reduce taxes on Boston real estate materially. Then landlords could raise rents and landlords might be able to keep one room for a parlor. It would help the poor too, who have to live in the Lodging Houses. Didn't the Lodging House Committee and out that most of the evils they suffered are really due to poverty? So, the Lodging House Committee is not
